

featured firm

TRUMAN HOYLE

Truman Hoyle is a multi award winning boutique law firm serving the new economy industries across the Asia Pacific region.

The firm has an extensive practice in communications, ecommerce, media, technology and intellectual property law and regulation. To fully service these dynamic and complex industries, the firm also maintains leading practices in industrial law, corporate law and dispute resolution.

Truman Hoyle's lawyers are consistently ranked by national and international publications as leaders in their fields.

Truman Hoyle adopts a number of innovative pricing and reporting models tailored to these industries, and contributes extensively to the development of public policy in its areas of expertise.

Recently Truman Hoyle has advised on the following transactions:

- the reorganization of the Asia Pacific business of a leading global technology consulting firm;
- regulatory advice for telecommunications carriers rolling out networks in Australia, New Zealand and India;
- policy and regulatory advice to industry wide communications representative groups in Australia, New Zealand and Israel;
- share and asset acquisitions across Australia for leading technology businesses;
- listings and corporate fund raising for high profile ecommerce, technology and bio-technology companies.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS, MEDIA AND TECHNOLOGY SPECIALISTS

Key team members

Shane Barber Managing Partner

Shane Barber heads the firm's Communications practice, with a particular expertise in regulatory advice and network rollouts. He also practices extensively in technology and ecommerce law, and industry mergers and acquisitions.

e: sbarber@trumanhoyle.com.au

Hamish Fraser

Hamish Fraser is a partner in the firm's Communications practice and provides commercial advice to telecommunications and technology clients in the Asia Pacific region. He is both a qualified engineer and a recent senior counsel to the Optus Group.

e: hfraser@trumanhoyle.com.au

Mark Vincent

Mark Vincent, partner, is one of Australia's leading intellectual property and technology lawyers and heads up the firm's practice in this area. Mark advises the firm's clients across the region, with a particular focus on US based clients.

e: mvincent@trumanhoyle.com.au

Alex Ninis

Alex is a key partner in the firm's Technology practice, having recently been Vice President and General Counsel –Asia Pacific and Japan - at Peoplesoft Inc. Alex's industry knowledge across the Asia Pacific is much sought after by business, particularly those with cross border operations.

e: aninis@trumanhoyle.com.au

Truman Hoyle

www.trumanhoyle.com.au